NEWS LETTERS FROM BULLETIN REPRESENTATIVES.

WILLIMANTIC

Change of Route for Reliability Run.
L. B. Lincoln, president of the Willimantic Automobile club, has perfected arrangements for the checking of the cars in the Munnery reliability run as they pass through this city next Monday. A change will probably have to be made in the route because the road on Carey Hill, Scotland, over which the cars were to pass, is torn up. Mr. Lincoln has notified the committee in charge of the condition of the road and other arrangements will in all probability be made so that the cars will come to this city from Providence by a different route.

OBITUARY.

Miss Alice E. Webster.
Miss Alice E. Webster, who resided at 18 Lehigh avenue, died Thursday morning at 2:45 o'clock in the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital in Boston. She was operated upon there two weeks ago and was supposed to be on the road to recovery. Deceased was born in Somers but had made her home in this city for about forty years. She was 59 years old. She was the daughter and Daniel and Julia Webster and a direct descendant of Governor Andros, her mother having been a member of the Andros family of Windsor. There survives a brother, N. D. Webster of this city, treasurer of the Willimantic Savings institution. The body was brought here last night and the funeral and burial will be in this city.

Michael D. Sullivan.
Michael D. Sullivan died at Holyoke, Mass., Thursday morning. He was 45 years old. There survive a widow and six children. Mrs. Sullivan formerly lived in this city and was a native of that town. About 20 years ago he went to Holyoke and has been engaged as a building contractor there. The funeral will be held in Holyoke and the body will then be brought to this city for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Town Treasurer Fenton's Report Shows Actual Receipts $117,627.92.
Town Treasurer Frank P. Fenton's report for the fiscal year just completed shows that the receipts for the year were $117,627.92, of which, allowing for the amount of the year's actual receipts to have been $117,627.92, including $12,166.67 of borrowed money. The increase is therefore $11,346.65 over last year, when the actual receipts were $106,281.27. The actual disbursements for the year were $113,351.47, an increase of $18,935.47 over last year, when the disbursements were $94,416.00. In the selectmen's orders, which is accounted for by reason of an order for $3,400 for the O'Loughlin property, which is not due until October 1, and is not included in the treasurer's disbursements.

Extraordinary disbursements that the town has been called upon to make the past year include $5,000 for the Arnold Potter farm for cemetery purposes, approximately $5,000 for the town's share of the North Windham state road and trunk line, $500 already paid on the O'Loughlin property, and $16,546.67 paid to the state out of the appropriation of $17,000 as the town's share of the new Windham street school, which latter figure increases the indebtedness of the town, but does not show in the assets, as the building is the property of the state. The state road and trunk line was put in at a cost to the town and state of $16,255.80, and the actual cost to the town has been $1,071.14, which is considerably larger than was anticipated.

A year ago only $15,000 was borrowed while this year the figure was $25,266.67. The selectmen's order for year ago were $35,432.01 as against $38,707.82 this year. There was also about a $2,000 increase in the school orders this year. The recapitulation of the report as compiled by the town clerk and treasurer is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred L. Olesau Return Home.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred L. Olesau arrived home after a visit to their home in Worcester, Tuesday. The bride was Miss Eugenie Potvin, a daughter of John Potvin, a local barber. The groom is Mr. Olesau, who was employed by Mr. Potvin. Olesau and Miss Potvin eloped a week ago Sunday and were traced to Worcester by Mr. Potvin. They were engaged to be married in October.

To Close Estate.
A probate hearing will be held next Wednesday to close up the estate of the late Ann E. Loran, the administratrix having presented her administration account for allowance.

Seniors Elect Officers.
The class of 1910, Windham High school, at a meeting Thursday afternoon elected these officers: President, Miss Louise Staebner; vice president, Harold Wyman; secretary, Reuben H. Bowden; treasurer, Miss Marion Jordan. Principal Maddox addressed the members of the class saying that as the time for the annual Halloween dance was approaching he would suggest that a social be held instead of the usual public dance. The suggestion was adopted.

Pastor Read to Congregation.
The mid-week service at the First Congregational church Thursday evening was well attended. Rev. W. S. Beard, the pastor, read interesting passages from the scriptures and the usual public dance. The suggestion was adopted.

Nobody Claims Waterford Boy.
Up to noon Thursday W. H. Moore of Waterford, father of the runaway boy that was arrested in this city Wednesday evening, could not be located. Capt. E. H. Richmond was in further communication with the authorities at that place in the afternoon but no definite arrangements were made about sending someone after the boy. Capt. Richmond finally notified the boy's family that he would hold him a short time longer until he was informed what he should do with the lad.

To Play Pennant Winners.
The fans will have an opportunity to witness local baseball Saturday when the local baseball artists will try conclusions with the Jewett City aggregation that won here in the championship of the Eastern Connecticut league. The game will be played on Windham field.

Railroad Commissioners Coming.
The itinerary of the railroad commissioners for their annual fall inspection of the railroads of the state will include several visits and one stop over in Willimantic, Wednesday, Sept. 29, the commission will complete the inspection of the Highland division of the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad when they arrive here late in the day. Thursday, Sept. 30, they will leave at 8 a. m. and inspect the Providence and Norwich and Worcester divisions, stopping over in New London Friday, Nov. 1st. They will go over a portion of the Shore Line to Saybrook, the Valley branch to Middletown, the Colchester branch and Air Line to Willimantic and complete the day on the return to New Haven.

McLean Coach at Storrs.
Samuel Frank McLean, twirler on this year's Jack Zellars' Springfield league team, was in town Thursday on his way to Storrs to coach the football eleven. McLean had a rival for the coach position in Billy Madden of South Manchester. Madden is a popular player in the latter place, but he could not make arrangements to get out of duty at times. He will not be on the staff, although he would be most welcome as he did good work there two seasons ago.

The Connecticut Aggies under McLean's training will undoubtedly show up well this season, the candidates in addition to the variety men from last year's team are heavier and are showing up well in practice.

Political Items.
The republican town committee has decided to call a caucus for the nomination of candidates for town officers next week. W. P. Jordan was elected town clerk and the committee is now Judge James P. Shea, resigned. It is understood that there is a contest on for first selectmen. It is believed that the republicans will endorse Frank P. Fenton for town clerk as no candidates seem to be in the field in the republican ranks.

To Celebrate Church Centenary.
The annual meeting of the Ashford Baptist association will be held at the Baptist church at Spring Hill on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. A feature in connection with the exercises will be the observance of the 100th anniversary of the Spring Hill church. Large delegations of Baptists from the surrounding churches are planning to attend the meetings.

Stephen Wallen's Death.
Stephen Wallen of Boston died at a private hospital in this city Thursday morning at 5:30 o'clock of chronic Bright's disease. A Danielson undertaker came to this city and took charge of the body and it was buried in the city cemetery. The body will be buried in Brooklyn cemetery.

JEWETT CITY
"Scenes in a Union Depot" Well Staged and Ably Presented—D. A. R. Chapter Hears Interesting Story Read.

The most humorous amateur entertainment ever given here was presented in Finn's Opera house on Thursday evening to a big audience. It was under the auspices of the Ladies' society of the First Congregational church. Mrs. Ella Taylor Bennett, from the Boston Entertainment company, was the capable directress of the play, which was the ever popular "Scenes in a Union Depot." The droll situations and speeches and fantastic costumes kept the audience well amused. Each actor took his part with ability, considering that the play was a amateur production. The specialties were worthy of the continued applause which they received, all being excellent. There were 75 in the cast, there being 10 in the children's chorus. Alice Shaw, Gladys Jeffers, Samantha Oldersham, Isabel Marshall, Bessie Thompson, Eleanor Ayer, Dorothy Hooper, Bessie Beardwood, William Fitzgerald, William Burdick, John Burdick, Payson Hooper, Leslie Hyde, Carl Melvin, Anna Littlefield, Alice Moore, Ethel Thompson and Harry Paul. The musical numbers were: Games of Childhood's Days, Bessie Beardwood and chorus; When the Moon Plays Peek a Boo, Miss Beardwood and chorus; Sweetheart, E. L. Frost and chorus; In Dear Old Mexico, Katharine Babcock and chorus; Oh! Miss Melinda, blackface solo and chorus with cake walk, soloist, Shepard Brown; My Wife's Gone to the Country, Herbert Webster; Gee! But There's Style to a Girl Like You, John Owen, Jr.; Pearl and May Gane, Watie Stetson, Jean Burleson, Marguerite Hill and Elizabeth Beardwood, Shepard Brown, Donald Bliss, Charles Burleson, Herbert Whipple, E. L. Frost and Norman Tracy appeared in the Peek a Boo, Sweethearts and blackface choruses. The Mexican girls were Marie Paul, Dorothy Burleson, Josephine Miller, Mildred Wilson, Alice Burdick and Mabel Bennett. The cast included:

Depot Master, Charles Spicer; Ticket Agent, William Soule; Lunch Counter Girl, Mrs. William Soule; Policeman, G. A. Haskell; Joe Gamlin, John Owen, Jr.; Mrs. Smith; Pearl Gane; Bessie Brown, Shepard Brown, Chattermuck, Mrs. Fred Gilbert; Maria Chattermuck, Marian Robinson; Aunt Amelia, Mary Soule; Little Willie, John Gory; Uncle Josh, Herbert Webster; Aunt Sarah, Mrs. Herbert Webster; Deacon Longface, E. D. A. R. CHAPTER

Hears Interesting Story of Exiled Demerara Girl 100 Years Ago.

The first meeting of the fall season of Anne Brewster Panning chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of the regent, Miss Martha Brewster, Wednesday evening. The opening business session, an invitation was read from the Elsworth Memorial association to the exercises at the Elsworth home, at Windsor, on Friday, Oct. 1.

There were no readers: A Kiss, by Mrs. Charles E. Spicer, the secretary, which told how the great Lord Cornwallis kissed a little child; Mrs. Frank Coom gave A Bit of Connecticut History.

A Romance of Ancient Jewett City.
The story read by Miss Alice Brown is a clipping owned by Mrs. W. R. Burdick from a Stafford Springs paper of Nov. 20, 1854, and was written by Mrs. E. B. Dimmock of Willimantic, Conn. Mrs. Dimmock was born in Jewett City the daughter of the late Joseph Brown, and is this city's neighbor, neighboring the narrative tells of old Jewett City history of over 100 years ago. More than 70 years ago, the story states, there lived in Demerara, British Guiana, a planter named DeHartie, who owned a large plantation. The household of DeHartie consisted of himself and his two daughters. He lived a quiet, luxurious life, knowing and caring little about the rest of the world, as did the slaves who tilled his lands. There was a brick trade then, as now, with Demerara. The captain of one of the Connecticut trading vessels made the acquaintance of DeHartie and induced him to send his daughters to Connecticut to be educated. They were accordingly sent here. The captain received money from DeHartie and paid the bills for the first term. After that the captain kept the money and the girls were thrown upon their own resources. The younger one died and the older one, Frances, came to Jewett City and lived in the family of Mr. Dimmock's grandfather, among city workers on the heights where Mrs. H. F. Cheney now lives. She worked in the old mill, on the bank of the Pachaug river, which was where she found her father, who when he died left her large estates. In 1827 she came to Jewett City again and visited her old home.

Mrs. Dimmock has a carved coconut shell that Frances gave to her grandmother, which she values very highly. After returning again to Demerara, Frances came into still larger estates, owned in the family to this day.

With the end of her second visit to Jewett City closed the romantic history of a person who has of great interest in the small village of 100 years ago.

WHY ENVY THE RICH?

Colonel Ingersoll made a speech during the campaign in 1898 and among the things he said was this: "And why should we envy the rich? Let me tell you something. The Vanderbilts and the Astors and the Rockefellers never drank any colder water than I have. They never smoked better cigars. They never ate lighter biscuits or better potatoes, or drank better Illinois wine than I have—than you have. We are all equal in the love of life and child and friend, and in some respects we have the advantage. They fear and we hope. They are at the top and they are afraid of falling. We are close to the ground and we hope to climb. This seems to fit the case of the laborer compared to the rich as well as anything can. It isn't his demand for meat three times a day that makes prices high as Secretary Wilson says. He hasn't the best food that can be obtained, but he has good food and he is hungry. Secretary Wilson should revise his speech and say what he means. He is a man who is supposed to know what he is talking about and it would be an injustice to him to say that he has correctly reported the condition of the laborer."—New Britain Herald.

He Was Bored.

Martin Beck was talking about bored. "Dash, the steel man," said Mr. Beck, has a short way with bored. One day he was in the lobby of the plaza of an Atlantic City hotel—talked straight ahead to him for 30 minutes about grand opera.

"Dash, the instant there came a pause, said earnestly: 'I tell you, sir, there's no lobster like Maine lobster.'"

"No doubt," he said; "no doubt. But what has that got to do with what I was talking about?"

"Dash! heaved a yawn.

"By the way," he said, "what were you talking about?"
